new map of land use in Hertfordshire at the time of the tithe awards. It intends to map land use field by field on six-inch maps, using the colour code adopted by compilers of the modern Land Utilization Survey. Anyone who has already done work on the tithe awards for Hertfordshire or who would like to offer his or her services in the future is invited to get in touch with Mr E. J. Connell, 97 The Avenue, Bengoe, Hertford, Herts.

AN INTERNATIONAL BIBLIOGRAPHY OF AGRARIAN HISTORY

The Hungarian Museum of Agriculture has undertaken to produce an international bibliography of current literature on the history of agriculture. The bibliography is to cover all aspects of agrarian history: the history of settlement, rural society, agricultural techniques, law, and education, and is to be published in an annual volume under the title Bibliographia Historiae Rerum Rusticarum Internationalis. Each reference in the bibliography will give the name of the author, title of work, volume number, if any, place of publication, publisher's name, date, and page references. Members of this society wishing to submit bibliographical material should send it to the Bibliographic Section of the Hungarian Museum of Agriculture, Budapest XIV, Hungary. Publications for the year 1964 must be received by June 30, 1965. The first volume of the bibliography, containing publications of 1960-1, appeared in 1964.

RESEARCH ON AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS

The International Secretariat for Research on the History of Agricultural Implements, which has its headquarters at the National Museum, Copenhagen, maintains an international bibliography and library of books on the history of farm and, particularly, ploughing implements. It has no money for buying books, and the secretary, George Nellesmann, would therefore be grateful if authors of articles on the subject would send offprints (preferably two copies, one for reference, and one for loan) or, if this is not possible, at least a note of the title and other bibliographical details of such works. The Secretariat sends out a newsletter each year listing the year's accessions to the library.
